Rebecca Wheeler's Lascaux Cave Paintings Series

---

Artist Statement -

"This small series of cave paintings are from my fascinations with the Lascaux cave in the south of France. The more I read, the more I wanted to know about these prehistoric paintings. They expressed themselves with paint that told their life stories. Georgia O'Keefe said, "I find that I have painted my life things happening in my life without knowing it." For these people they knew this was their only way to tell about their stories.

The Lascaux Cave had led me to this work. There are many unexplained symbols and I have used their symbols in this art and created my own cave paintings."
